

The Longleaf Alliance's Longleaf Academy: Longleaf 101

Interested in planting and managing longleaf, but don't know where to start?

Join fellow landowners, consultants, and practitioners in a 2.5 day classroom and field course on 'all things longleaf' with local expertise in management and ecology from The Longleaf Alliance and partners.

Topics will include:

- The history of longleaf pine in the South
- The role of fire in longleaf ecosystems
- Site selection, site preparation
- Artificial regeneration, seedling quality, planting and release techniques
- Natural regeneration processes
- Stand management
- Managing wildlife habitat
- Diseases and insect identification
- Economics, products, resources and materials
- Converting to longleaf without a clearcut
- Groundcover restoration

Dates: Tuesday, December 4, 2018 —
Thursday, December 6, 2018

Location: Hobcaw Barony
22 Hobcaw Road, Clemson Lab, Building B
Georgetown, SC 29440

Course Cost: $150, includes materials, field trip transportation, and lunches provided.

To register, visit www.longleafalliance.org

LIMITED SPOTS AVAILABLE. SAF credits provided upon approval.
For more information contact Longleaf Alliance at 334-427-1029
or email ryan@longleafalliance.org

SEWEE LONGLEAF
Conservation Cooperative

HOBCAW BARONY
THE BELLE W. BARUCH FOUNDATION